EASTERN TEACHERS COLLEGE

RICHMOND  KENTUCKY

1957 MILESTONE

EASTERN KENTUCKY STATE COLLEGE
RICHMOND, KENTUCKY

ROSALIND LEWIS, EDITOR
JAMES P. CHEAK, BUSINESS MANAGER
H. H. LOFUZE, ADVISOR

Robed in the rich red and gold hues of fall — blanketed in the silent whiteness of winter's snow — vibrant and alive in the green of spring — Eastern's many faces are familiar and dear to us. During the four years we have spent in our campus home, we have come to love every walkway, building and scene which surrounds us — each smile which greets us with a friendly "hello". This book contains only a few of the memories which go with us as we leave — yet many and precious are the memories in our hearts. As the tower clock chimes the last minutes, we bid farewell to all we love at Eastern and turn to leave — as graduates. We step through the doorway to our futures with mingled regret and joy — regret that we must leave our friends and classmates, and joy that we will forever be a part of Eastern, and Eastern a part of each of us.

A genial, affable personality and a sympathetic nature make Victor E. Venettozzi one of the most estimable professors of the campus. His exemplary leadership, expressed through club advisory activities, continues to be of memorable value to those who work under him. The Omicron Alpha Kappa fraternity, the Student Council, and the Young Republicans' Club are organizations which he has effectively guided, with also a four-year sponsorship of the 1956-57 graduating class. His popular designation, "Mr. V.", is illustrative of the camaraderie included in his students' regard for him.

Because of his thoughtfulness and endeavors on its behalf, the senior class finds both pleasure and pride in presenting Victor E. Venettozzi with the 1957 Milestone dedication. May it herein express its gratitude and affection.

DEDICATION

Pennsylvanian by birth, Mr. Venettozzi came to Kentucky as a transferee from Pennsylvania State University. His three and a half years' studies at Eastern led him to an A.B. degree in English and an M.A. degree in Education. While pursuing a sincere interest in the teaching profession, he has integrated guidance and counseling with giving formal instruction.

Expressive of his versatility, the leisure-time activity which gives him greatest pleasure is woodworking. The ones most dear to him are his talented wife, Vasile, and his intelligent, delightful daughter, Louise, not yet three years old.

Eastern's open doors beckon us to follow her paths to knowledge — to happiness — to a way of life. Many and varied are the doors we may enter during our sojourn here — as are the experiences which await us. The rapid succession of our ensuing college days are crowded with events which will always be within the doors of our memory . . .

The rainy doys at Eastern seem sometimes to out-number the fair ones — but rain fails to dampen our spirits as much as our feet. The warm friendliness of the grille in the morning — bright classrooms, and the happy noise of busy students — watching a television program or jaining a card game in the next suite during a free period — club meetings, evenings in the library, a date for the campus movie or ball game . . . and as the still-wet day comes to an end, the softened lights along the campus drive glow a misty "good night", to the accompaniment of the tower chimes . . .

The doors open and close briskly on a cold, clear winter day. Though the bright sky makes the outdoors seem inviting, your fingertips tingle when you enter a warm building. Chatting over a hot cup of coffee with a professor or friends — singing around the piano in the Student Union — a crackling log fire in the lobby — a concert or play in the auditorium — with so much warmth and friendliness indoors, the harsh, cold winds lose some of their sting. From inside, the winter scene gives a feeling of security and contentment . . .

Doors are opened wide to the cool breezes of early spring — the smell of wet earth, rain, and budding shrubbery chases any traces of the winter's chill and gloom. Sunshine streams in classroom windows — shouts and clanking swings echo from the playground — singing, laughing people crowd the Student Union steps — convertibles fold their tops down for the "new look" — lazy afternoons at Boonesboro beckon — all so much a part of this life we love — of Eastern.

Now we are graduating. Senior activities keep our days busy and filled. There is little time for sadness at the prospect of leaving — this is what we have worked for these four years. Our freshman days seem dimmed by time and distance — the present passing too rapidly. We receive our degrees and turn from Eastern to the future for which she has so thoroughly prepared us, tucking these last moments away for remembrance as we step through the open door into the sunshine . . .

The ending of summer brings only a moment of regret—anticipation of our last year at Eastern sweeps us up in the rush of returning friends, and the many new faces around us. Freshmen find little time for thoughts of home as activities surround them, and friendships are begun which will last through college and beyond. Those to whom Eastern is already home can hardly wait to catch up on all that has happened since last we saw each other, and before we know it, classes begin. New subjects, new teachers—a new year holds its promise brightly before us. The first football game—hayrides on the first cold nights—an evening of goblins and gayety on Hallowe'en—assignments that take us to the library, and afterwards to the grille for a cup of coffee—all spell Eastern. Before we know it, Homecoming is only a week away. The frenzied preparation—floats, pep rallies, decorating, and hard work—result in a never-to-be-forgotten day.

FALL

Once again the campus at Eastern is a beehive of activity. Freshmen girls and boys taking a first glance at their new home, long for a moment for the familiarity of their own homes. Soon this is forgotten in the bustle of meeting new roommates and giving their rooms a collegiate air.

BEGINNING A NEW YEAR

Jean Patterson and Normo Houchin find it fun moving into a new home.

Wilma Jones, Janet Von Grewinegan, and other girls meet the Dean of Women and their House Mother at a tea for Freshmen Women.

Freshmen congregate for a welcome from the President.

Dean Cose and Dolores Somson help freshmen plan class schedules.

Na sooner is the last suitcase stowed away than the newcomer finds himself with hardly a mament ta spare. Pajama parties, get acquainted teas, freshman talent show, friendly, helpful talks fram the deans, and even lang hours spent taking classification tests bind the Freshmen into one big happy family.

Rose Morie Rose, Bonnie Rose, and Nelson Bell begin the long line for registration by having their pictures mode.

Dr. Grise and Mr. Venettozzi advise Shirley Dillow and other students on their English classes.

We know the daily life at Eastern is once again in full swing as we look toward the steps of the Student Union Building. Occasionally we have time for a friendly chat between classes and maybe even a coke before the whistle blows. One of the first things we must do is get acquainted with the library. With research papers, book reports, and many other assignments we will need to know our library. Our life, however, is not all work. We spend part of our leisure time by participating in the activities of some of the many clubs on our campus.

Mary Alice Gash helps Mary Lou Wotts, as well as other transfer students and freshmen, to use the library.

BACK TO WORK AND PLAY

Jimmy Skaggs, Phyllis Spears, Michelle Dann, George Rauth, Arthur Laoney, Pat Franklin and Nelson Bell get initiated into Sigma Tau Pi.

ADMINISTRATION

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents is the governing body of the college. The Chairman of the Board is the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The other four members are appointed by the Governor for four-year terms. Eastern has been fortunate throughout its history in having capable men of vision who have worked for its advancement.

FRONT ROW: Cecil Sanders, Lancaster, state senator; Robert Mortin, Frankfort, Superintendent of Public Instruction; W. E. Blockburn, Pikeville, vice-chairman of the Board and mayor of Pikeville. SECOND ROW: W. F. O'Donnell, Richmond, President of Eastern; Keen Johnson, Richmond, former governor, vice-president and member of the Board of Directors of Reynolds Metal Company; E. E. Begley, Hazard, dentist and businessman.

At the head of the college family is Dr. William F. O'Donnell. In his sixteen years as chief executive, Dr. O'Donnell has seen Eastern progress from a small teachers' college to its present position as one of Kentucky's largest and finest institutions of higher learning. His hard work, friendliness, and diplomatic manner have been instrumental in Eastern's rise to national prominence.

W. F. O'DONNELL

PRESIDENT

THE DEANS

W. J. MOORE
Dean of the College

A good friend to all is capable, friendly Dean Moore. Whether it is contract troubles or conflicting class schedules, he has these problems solved in a hurry, and more than likely the one in trouble will leave his office smiling at one of his many funny stories.

EMMA Y. CASE
Dean of Women

Quick and helpful attention to any of the girls' problems is given by Dean Case. For personal problems, gaining social poise or making studying more effective, she is always ready with good and kindly-given advice.

QUENTIN B. KEEN
Dean of Men

With the rapid expansion of men's dormitory facilities, Dean Keen's job increases in scope and difficulty. His conscientious manner and his perpetual cheerfulness make him an admired and respected leader.

MELVIN E. MATTOX

Registrar

For many memorable years Mr. Mattox has capably and considerately served as general counselor on college requirements, contract arrangements, and other matters of personal, as well as collegiate, pertinence.

D. J. CARTY

Director of In-Service Education

Mr. Carty is well-qualified as adviser on the scope and selection of correspondence and extension courses, registration with the Placement Bureau, and related areas which many of Eastern's students encounter.

STAFF SECRETARIES

FRONT ROW: Mrs. Robert Larence, Assistant Secretary to the President; Mrs. Rochel Duncan, Secretary to the Director of In-Service Education; Lois Calley, Secretary to the President; Mrs. Helen Perry, Assistant to the Director of Personnel. SECOND ROW: Carrie Patts, Secretary to the Registrar; Mrs. Martha Barksdale, Secretary to the Dean; Louise Broadus, Recorder in Registrar's Office; Mrs. Bessie Griggs, Information Clerk.

DORMITORY DIRECTORS

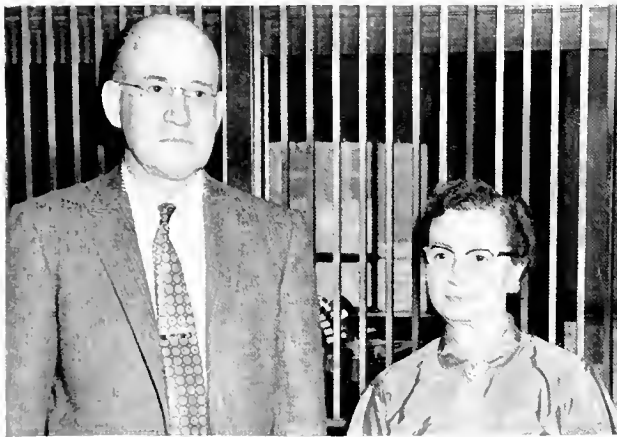

Mrs. Myrtie Holder, Executive Housekeeper; Eunice Wingo, Assistant Dean of Women; Mrs. Julio Hewlett, Supervisor of Sullivan Hall; Mrs. L. A. Abrams, Housing Secretary for Men's Dormitories, and not pictured, Mrs. Pauline Allen, Social Director of Burnam Hall.

G. M. BROCK
Business Agent

Mr. Brock efficiently manages the manifold phases of the business life of Eastern with intelligence and clarity that reveals a thorough understanding of his important job.

E. B. Nolan, Cashier; Aileen Wickersham, Secretary to the Business Agent.

E. P. McConnell, Payroll Clerk; Norbert McGuire, Bookkeeper.

W. C. Forston, Jr., Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds.

Fred Ballou, Book Store Manager; Mrs. Edith McIlvaine, Supervisor of the Cafeteria; Mrs. Katherine Chenoult, Hostess, Student Union Building.

BUSINESS AND MAINTENANCE

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

FLORENCE CHAMPION, President Executive Committee.

EARL T. HENDERSON
First Vice-President
Executive Committee

JOHN E. ROBINSON
Second Vice-President
Executive Committee

MRS. MARY RICHARDS, Executive Secretary.

MRS. FRANKIE DENISTON
Assistant Secretary
Alumni Association

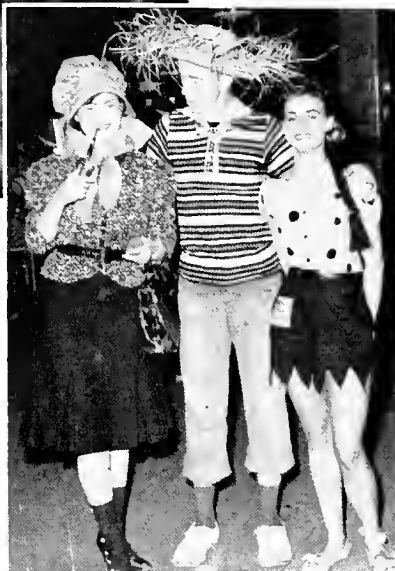

Other members of the Alumni Association Executive Committee are Joseph Shearer, Raymond Giltner, George Martin, Mrs. Henry Triplett, Claude Bivins, and Mrs. Clarence Harmon.

Yvonne and Lau McNabb, Jae Moares, Phil Landgrave, Janet Breeze, Jimmy Slane, and Ruby Evans take time out for doughnuts and cider at the Halloween party.

PARTY TIME

Jaanne Bautilier, Jimmy England, and Danna Dandaldson take the prizes at the Sadie Hawkins Day dance.

Our thoughts are light and gay as we make plans for the Halloween Party and Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. Many students gather on Halloween for a free movie, cider, doughnuts, and dancing. A few weeks later the Daisy Mae's catch their favorite Little Abner and drag him to the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance.

AND DRAMA

The Little Theatre Club under the direction of Mr. Hanner provides us with more cultural entertainment. They present several different plays throughout the year from which we derive great pleasure.

Doug Rabinson, Kelly Williams, Jim Foyler, Mary Bailey, and Peggy Perciful provide an evening of comedy in the play MY THREE ANGELS.

ACADEMIC

AGRICULTURE

Jackson A. Taylor is an instructor in this department. Many courses are offered in farm management, care of livestock, and the most modern farming methods.

William A. Stocker is the head of the Agriculture Department. Not only is he a close friend to all the boys in the ag department, but he is also active in many of the other campus activities, including being sponsor of the Y.M.C.A.

Agriculture students may work on the farm to earn additional funds. Eastern has her own Dairy and from these cows comes her doily supply of milk.

This organization of agricultural students was formed in 1927. The purpose of the club is to study diligently the economic and social problems that pertain to farming and to devise measures whereby the economic status of the farmer may be improved and his standard of living elevated. Activities include sponsoring a basketball team, presenting programs to local high school F.F.A. clubs, and showing movies on latest developments in agriculture to members.

First Row: C. Cale (Secretary-Treasurer), E. Margan, D. Jackson. Second Row: A. Turpin, R. Gilliam, B. Harsley (President). Third Row: R. Oval (Vice-President), Y. Pinkstan, B. Parks, R. Tudor. Missing: W. Stocker (Spansor).

Frederic P. Giles, loved and admired by all the students, is the head of the Art Department at Eastern. A class with Dr. Giles in art appreciation or drawing is a broadening experience no student should miss.

Dean Gatwood, Duna Verich, and Willard McHane are instructors of the varied courses in art and designing.

ART

The purposes of the Alpha Alpha Psi of Kappa Pi, a national art fraternity, are to promote interest among college students in art, to recognize potential and professional ability in art, to bring art departments of various colleges closer together through activities, and to know the work of other students through exhibits and the SKETCH BOOK which is the national society's journal.

Textile design and oil painting are two subjects which Art majors encounter. Here Rea Anderson and Jim Rhein are putting the finishing touches on their projects.

First Row: R. Anderson, Shelby Crowe (Secretary), J. Fuller. Second Row: B. Tarkington, D. Gatwood, D. Turner. Third Row: F. Giles (Sponsor), D. Rabinson, L. Dingus.

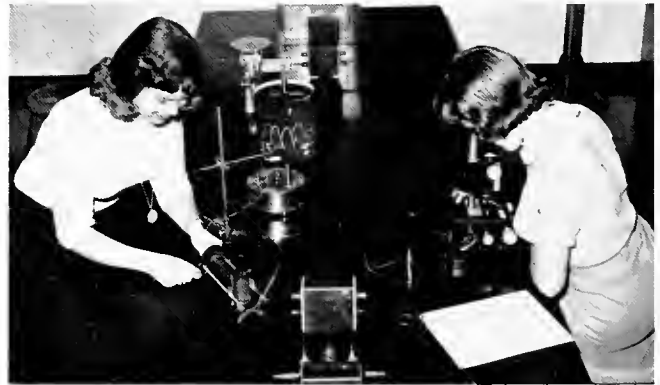

H. H. LaFuze is the head of the Biology Department. He is constantly in demand for advice on schedules or helping his students with a problem.

A. L. Whitt, Harold L. Zimmack and Robert Larance teach the biological science courses, and anatomy, physiology and zoology classes.

BIOLOGY

The Biology Club strives to stimulate individual and campus interest in biology and to promote friendship and the exchange of ideas among students. The club sponsors informative discussions about things of the living world. It also sponsors instructional and recreational outings.

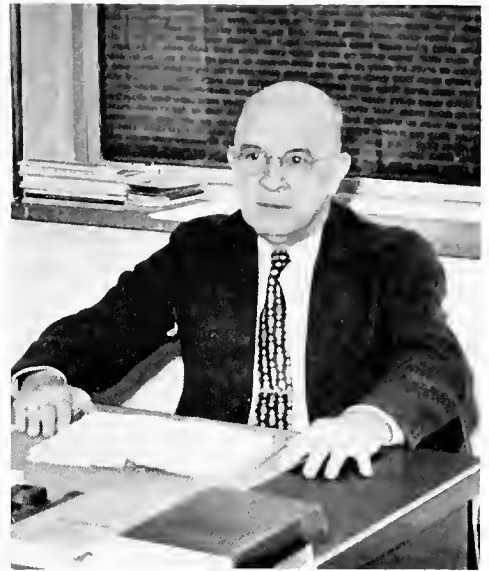

Joan Kitson and Billie Griffin have found the field of Biology very fascinating.

First Row: J. Beard, T. Marshall, N. Bawling (Vice-President), K. Naylor, H. Prewitt, J. May, E. Hatch. Second Row: J. Norris, M. Gandolfo, M. Clark, P. Hensley, M. Fax, S. Norris, H. Giles, E. Hovious. Third Row: J. Kitson, J. Sutkamp, M. Elvove (Treasurer), A. Helman (Secretary), B. Carrier, B. Griffin. Fourth Row: T. Hatfield, W. Mayfield, B. Asher, R. Lawrence, L. Wilson, J. King. Fifth Row: P. Robinson, T. Bertram, L. Wright, R. Lang, W. Wells (President).

Thomas C. Herndon, Chairman of the Division of Science, is also a professor in the Chemistry Department. He instructs physical, quantitative and qualitative chemistry courses.

Meredith J. Cox, head of the Chemistry Department, is familiar to all the science students. His high standards and exacting requirements prove invaluable to his students in their future careers.

Many hours in lab have been spent by "Red" Richards and Jae Chapman while working their experiments.

CHEMISTRY

The Caduceus Club was organized in 1936 by Dr. J. D. Farris, who was at that time college physician at Eastern. It fosters premedical interest of students who are interested in medicine, pharmacy, medical technology, dentistry, and nursing. Informative lectures are given by doctors and occasionally medical films are shown.

First Row: T. Marshall, B. Griffin (Vice-President), N. Bawling, M. Fax, A. Helman, E. Havias. Second Row: M. Cox (Sponsor), L. Wilson, T. Hatfield, J. Sutkamp (Treasurer), B. Wells, H. Giles. Third Row: T. Campbell, M. Clark, B. Asher (President), B. Lang, H. Galloway.

COMMERCE

W. J. Moore, friend to all commerce majors, is head of the Commerce Department. Those who have been in his classes will remember his dry wit as a lively addition to the more serious subjects of business administration.

First Row: W. Wainscott, R. Hutton, J. Kennedy, N. Bell, C. Howard, C. Pullen, D. Kennedy. Second Row: C. Pigg, R. Garnett, W. Idol, C. Stoess, H. Martin, G. Daines, G. Routh, R. Smith, J. Parker. Third Row: B. Dunaway, R. Murrell, C. Andrew, G. Baber, B. Malicote, G. Psimer, H. Mastin (Treasurer), J. Bowling, C. Durham (Vice - President), J. Rhein (President), W. Ellis. Fourth Row: E. Morentz, L. Ball, A. Looney, J. Skaggs, J. Brewer, M. Smithers, T. King, G. Horn, W. Moore (Sponsor). Fifth Row: G. Bottom, J. Cheak, W. Miller, F. Blair, B. Henson, E. Egnew, C. Stone.

Sigma Tau Pi has as its purpose to promote a feeling of unity and fellowship among its members, to aid the general welfare in the department of commerce, and to provide opportunities for social and educational growth.

First Row: S. Stephens, J. Begley, B. Turpin, S. Wainscott, B. Gee, D. Donovan, B. Giunchigliani (Secretary). Second Row: S. Brown, L. Bell, D. Harper, E. Massey, J. Campbell, L. Cahoon, E. Morgan. Third Row: P. Franklin, S. Hanks, L. Samson, P. Deal, R. Howard, M. Feltner, V. Richie, P. Spears. Fourth Row: M. Foeses, B. Osborne, J. Pritchard, B. Franks, D. Bailey, D. Combs. Fifth Row: S. Bush, A. Akers, G. O'Connell, G. Pence, B. Cureton, J. Hibbord, J. Peters.

George Stokes and Mary Lou Ingram are busily engaged in working an accounting problem which Commerce students find themselves, late at night, trying to complete.

Pi Omega Pi is a national honorary fraternity for commercial teachers. The Alpha Beta chapter was organized in 1935 and was the first national honorary society at Eastern after the school was authorized by the Board of Regents. The club is to create, encourage, promote and extend interest in scholarship and to foster high scholarship in business and professional life.

First Row: M. Ingram (Secretary), S. Brawn, E. Egnew (Treasurer), Mavis Curry (President). Second Row: D. Samson, L. Bell, B. Osborne, G. Pence, J. Bowling. Third Row: G. O'Connell, M. Herdt, A. McIlvaine (Sponsor).

EDUCATION

Instructors of psychology and survey courses in teacher training are, seated left to right: William Sprague; Fred A. Engle; standing: James Snowden; Willis Parkhurst. Absent from the picture is Gladys Tyng.

D. T. Ferrell keeps the Education Department abreast of the latest developments in education in Kentucky and the nation. The many students who are planning to be teachers find that, at Eastern, they receive professional training that is among the finest in the nation.

The FTA is an organization devoted to the advancement of the teaching profession and the dispersion of interest in teaching among the young people of the nation. Many of the activities of the organization are integrated with the KEA and NEA. A basic project of the campus chapter is to supplement the educational experiences which are not received in the regular classroom work.

Kappa Delta Pi is a national honorary fraternity to recognize outstanding students in the field of education. It encourages high professional, intellectual, and personal standards.

First Row: Y. McNabb, M. Stanley, M. Gash, M. Curry, B. Hume. Second Row: M. Royalty, M. Bodner, G. Pence, L. Mayes, B. Lawrence, B. Tarkington. Fourth Row: J. Breeze (Secretary), R. Lewis, I. Teater (Sponsor), E. Egnew, H. Prewitt (President), R. Benton (Vice-President). Fifth Row: M. Mattox, J. Heink, P. Landgrave, J. Cheak (Treasurer), W. Berge, R. James.

First Row: P. Gravett, S. Brown, B. Alexander (Treasurer), D. Harper, E. Massey, C. Bush, P. Franklin. Second Row: M. Harding, J. West, P. Tucker, R. Isaac, M. Saylor, P. Rogers, D. Tutt, J. Polston, A. Bryant. Third Row: D. Yaden, P. Downey, S. Hilton, G. Eckler, D. Munsan, L. Johnson, D. Warren, C. Willoughby, R. Rose, J. Royalty, J. Begley, J. Narris. Fourth Row: G. Lewis, M. Mathews, J. Ratliff, E. Walters, C. McCormack, L. Louie, D. Bailey, N. Haise, P. Spencer, C. Nagle (Vice-President), M. Gash, L. Elhatt, M. McLain, M. Hansjergen, G. Pack, H. Murray. Fifth Row: N. Ehret, J. Bautillier, J. Ransdell, R. Lewis, A. Hay, J. Pritchard, M. Bodner, B. Heathman, J. Gash, N. Dixon, J. Cook (Secretary). Sixth Row: P. Proctor, B. Lewis, D. Bryant, G. Franklin, R. Isaacs, J. Payne, D. Ferrell (Sponsor), C. Bates, R. Ridgeway (President).

SECONDARY EDUCATION

J. Darland Coates is the principal of Madel High School. A very busy man, he co-ordinates the program of student teaching on the campus, and instructs the "observation" course for all future secondary teachers.

Eastern's Training School is fortunate in having excellent critic teachers, under whose supervision the student teachers work for twelve weeks. This experience is the most valuable phase of a prospective teacher's education—not only in the classroom, but in working with the various extra-curricular activities carried out by the high school students.

Cora Lee, A. L. Wickersham, Ruby Rush, and Harold Rigby are supervising teachers in Madel High.

Henry Bindel, Jack Creech, and Ida Teater supervise student teachers on the secondary level at Madel High. Absent from the picture is Alma Regenstein.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Henry G. Martin is the principal of the elementary Training School. Always available to help solve a problem or talk with any of the critic or student teachers, he is also a friend to each of the children who attend the Training School.

Many students at Eastern plan to be elementary teachers, and working with the younger children can be an education in itself. The first six grades are included in the Training School, and the rural demonstration school is also associated with the college. Student teachers, who work the entire semester in their practice teaching under one of these seven excellent critic teachers, feel that not only is this experience the most valuable of their entire college career, but certainly the one that they have enjoyed the most.

The six supervising teachers in the elementary school are, seated from left to right: Virginio Story, Mabel Jennings, Germanio Wingo; standing: Ann Alvis, Mory B. Brittain, and Ellen W. Pugh.

Mamie W. Scott is the teacher of the rural school, known to all as the Little Red School House. A busy woman indeed, Mrs. Scott has children from Madison County in all six grade levels, and will gladly tell you that she wouldn't trade her work for anyone's.

Janet Murbach directs the Foreign Language Department. In Dr. Murbach's classes, the student not only learns the language, but the customs and history of the native people of a country. Her courses in Spanish and French will instill in anyone the desire to travel.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Though some courses in a foreign language are necessary for all English majors, many students study a language for the pleasure they derive from it. Sigma Lambda is the organization of the Foreign Language Department.

Sigma Lambda's membership is selective but automatic. Any student in an advanced course of Foreign Language with an average of B or more in previous Foreign Language courses is eligible. The purpose of the club is to bring together students with a common interest in foreign languages and literatures. A major activity of the club is the study of the United Nations.

First Row: J. Kitsan, M. Atkins, A. Brack, B. Webster, M. Halmes, R. Bass. Second Row: M. Hall, P. Tucker, P. Mastin, B. Tarkington, (Secretary-Treasurer), B. Gibson, J. Ratliff. Third Row: D. Johnson, J. Schultz, F. Hernidan (President), N. Whalen, J. McCreary, J. Murbach (Spansar).

P. M. Grise is the head of the English Department. His classes are always enjoyed by the students, especially those in literature and Shakespeare, and his genuine interest in all the English majors creates a friendly atmosphere throughout the department.

Mary Barnhill, William L. Keene, Pearl Buchanan, and Saul Haunchell are instructors in the literature, speech, and grammar courses.

ENGLISH

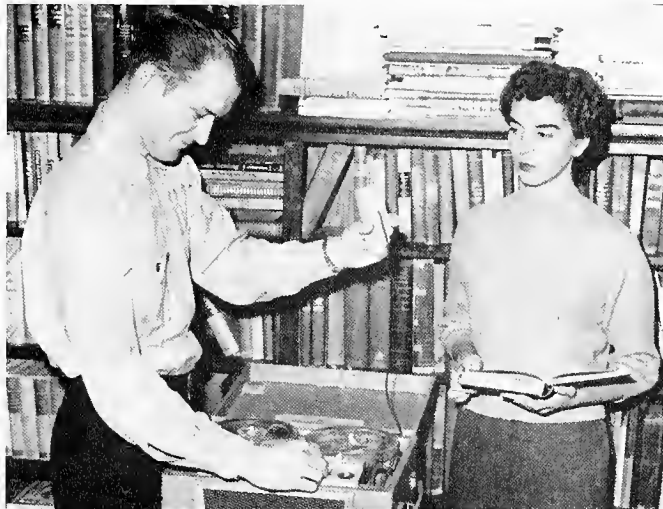

The Canterbury Club is composed of English majors and minors. Membership is by invitation of the club. No freshmen are taken into the club, and second majors and minors are invited when they are juniors or seniors. The club fosters scholarship, participates in campus activities, and presents programs of special interest to English majors. Yearly the club publishes Belles Lettres, a volume of student writings, for which any college student may offer his writings.

A tape recarder has been a great help to English majors. Lee Sanders and Betty Gibson find that recording acts of Shokespeare's plays helps them to understand their lesson better.

The play "My Three Angels" proved very successful. Here Doug Robinson, Jim Flara, Kelly Williams, Don Walters, and Peggy Perciful are at rehearsal.

L. G. Kenamer, the head of the Geography Department, is a well-known and loved member of Eastern's faculty. An entertaining and excellent teacher, his classes in geography and geology are favorites of all the students. His interest in students, and in their futures, endears him to all who know him.

G E O G R A P H Y

Mary Frances Richards is the instructor of geography of the various parts of the world, and courses in climatology.

Keith Steins, Jack Allen, and Gillis Lewis identify the rocks and minerals on display in the geology laboratory. These boys find the study of geology fascinating, and an important factor in understanding our earth—its formation and history.

Charles "Turkey" Hughes is the head of the Health and Physical Education Department. Known throughout the state as a prominent figure in athletics, he has guided the Department at Eastern in achieving an outstanding reputation in the realm of sports and athletics.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The purpose of the Health and Physical Education Club is to promote the professional ideas of physical education and to create a spirit of fair play in everyday life. Major activities include the sponsoring of play nights, square dances, and physical education events which encourage the feeling of team spirit.

Dan Williamson and Joan Mitchell are going over some of the equipment for their department in preparation for a play night in the gymnasium.

First Row: J. Mitchell (President), L. Samson, C. Landen, P. Vencill, J. May, A. Isaacs. Second Row: P. Allison, J. Davis, C. Bates, R. Bentan (Vice-President). Third Row: J. Caaper (Sponsor), B. Butner (Treasurer), R. Isoacs, D. Williamson (Secretary).

Kerney Adams is the head of the History Department. A fair and exacting teacher, both in and out of class, he commands the respect of his students and fellow staff members.

HISTORY

Courses in world history, philosophy, government, American history, and sociology are taught by these instructors. Seated, from left to right, are Harry Banks, Paul C. Nagel and Virgil Burns; standing: Robert G. Donaldson, Clyde Lewis, George Rabinsan.

Joe Heink and Bonnie Hume locate on the map many of the countries they have studied in their history courses.

Mory King Burrier is the hastess and head lady of the Home Economics Department. Her interest in all her "girls" stimulates a closely-knit, active program in Hame Eca-nomics.

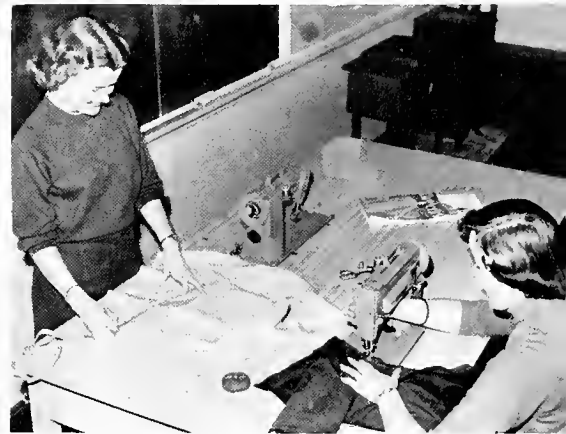

Willie Mass and Evelyn Slater are instruc-tars of dressmaking, home and family living, and home management.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economics Club tries to create a closer rela-tionship among its members and the department. Activi-ties such as formal dinners, picnics, educotional meetings and many others help to develop the members personally and socially.

Doris Caffmon and Betty Brack Lawrence have found that their skill in sewing is not only economical, but is a great pleasure in enabling them ta create their awn ward-robos.

First Row: E. Jeffery, V. Fugate, P. Bumgardner, S. Caudill, O. White, M. Bawling, K. Smith, W. Haughabao. Secand Row: H. Henderson, M. Burrier (Spansar), B. Coffey, B. Miller, C. Curtis, M. Watts, N. Turner (Secretary), J. Donohue, M. Wilder, J. Adams. Third Row: B. Thacker, B. Lawrence, E. Fischer, V. LaFuze, F. Hockwarth, M. Owen, P. Pence, P. Baker, D. Payne, J. Smith, L. Elhott, R. Sims. Fourth Row: A. Bryant, B. Phillips, D. Coldwell, M. Campbell, P. Walker, T. Miller, M. Hatfield, W. Durbin, W. Janes. Fifth Row: L. Compbell, L. Chipman, F. Smith, B. Rose, W. Summers, A. Caaper, J. Cunagin, J. Goy, B. Brock (Vice-President), M. Treadwoy (President), K. McCall, M. Somerville.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Ralph Whalin administers the Industrial Arts Department efficiently. A friend to all the boys in the department, he encourages them to develop their skills, both in craftsmanship and co-operation, and to maintain high professional principles.

Instructing the many courses in cabinet construction and mechanical drawing are, from left to right: James Homer Davis, William E. Swinford, Dale Patrick, Thomas E. Myers, and John D. Rowlett.

Bob Bellamy and William Sexton, industrial arts majors, find the work they do with electronics fascinating, and also important in its relation to their other mechanics courses.

Mary Flayd, the head librarian, has kept the library running smoothly and efficiently at all times. Miss Flayd retired this year, and her many friends miss seeing her when they visit the library.

LIBRARY

Eastern's library is one of the finest in the state, and students and faculty can find information on any subject, collections of famous authors' works, and the latest fiction on its shelves. Freshmen are introduced to the library through their sociology classes, and it then becomes a much-used spot for the rest of their college career.

The library assistants who help the students find the information they need in the library are, seated, left to right: May C. Hansen, Mrs. Guy Whitehead, Jamie D. Lamb, Mary Dickerson; standing: Mrs. Lester Miller, R. A. Edwards, Nancy R. Park.

These students find the library a good place to study, and many hours are spent among the stacks looking for desired books, and digging out the facts necessary for a term paper or report. Newspapers and magazines are available in abundance for those who want to keep up on world happenings.

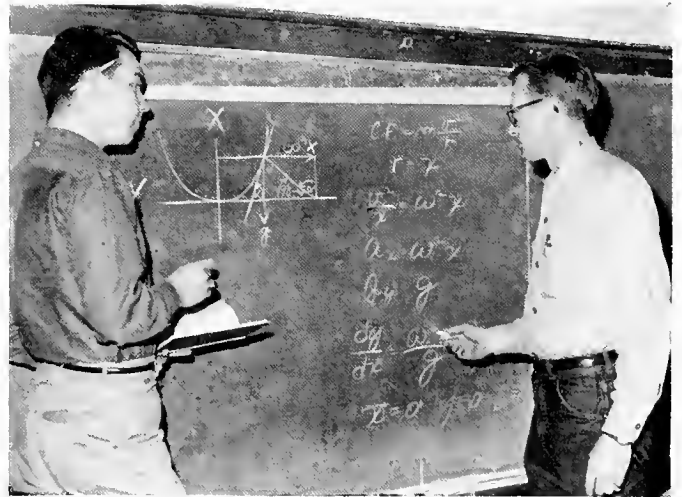

Alvin M. McGlasson and Sydney J. Stephens are instructors in the math department.

Smith Pork is the head of the Mathematics Department. His amazing ability to solve the complex problems that confront a math major command the respect of all who have classes with him.

MATHEMATICS

The purpose of the Mathematics Club is to increase interest in mathematics and to interpret to others the importance of and the benefits to be derived from the study of mathematics. The club's programs consist of guest faculty speakers as well as speakers from the club membership.

Right now, the only thing Don Crowe and Lowell Fletcher have on their minds is finding the answer to this problem.

Lt. Colonel Edwin G. Hickmon heads the Military Science Department. This is his first year at Eastern, after four years' service in Turkey, and he is well-qualified for any post assigned.

Captain Paul E. Myers, assistant PMST, and Captain H. Margan, assistant PMST, instruct courses in military tactics that instill in the boys the potentials of good Army officers.

MILITARY SCIENCE

Other instructors are M. Sgt. Jahn Sublousky; M. Sgt. Dill A. Christian; M. Sgt. Joseph T. Borron; Sfc. Henry V. Contwell; M. Sgt. Raymond Royce.

The Eastern Cadet Officers Club was organized in 1952 for the advanced members of R.O.T.C. Their outstanding activity is the sponsoring of the Military Ball. The organization affords its members the opportunity of enjoying social events together, and creates unity in and an appreciation of the military life. Officers are Cadet Colonel William Carrier, president; Cadet Captain Gail Smith, vice-president; Cadet Captain Tom Bertram, secretary; Cadet Major Walter Banyas, treasurer. Major Paul E. Myers is the advisor.

MUSIC

These members of the music faculty teach classes in voice, harmony, music appreciation, and instrumental work. Seated, left to right: Landis D. Baker, Nicholas J. Koenigstein, Frances McPherson; standing: Robert L. Oppelt and Jane Campbell.

James E. Van Peursem is familiar to everyone on campus, and a favorite of all the music majors. The music programs presented by the Department throughout the year, under his direction, add immeasurably to campus life.

Practice is a big ward in the field of Music and is well-known to music majors Charlie Bickel and Allyne Friesen.

Vasile Venettazzi and Brown E. Telford instruct students in voice, piano, and organ.

The Music Club is to promote good will and fellowship among the musicians, to develop greater interest in the fine arts, to secure more privileges for the musicians at Eastern, and to offer more opportunities to these musicians.

Clifton Bayse, instructor in the Physics Department, teaches courses such as wave motion, and the theory of sound and light.

PHYSICS

J. G. Black is the head of the Physics Department. Dr. Black is loved and admired by students for his remarkable intelligence and his interesting classes. He has a talent for mixing science with all aspects of life, and the graduates in physics are well-prepared for a promising future.

The purpose of the Physics Club is to promote an interest in physics and the related sciences and to better prepare its members for positions in this field after graduation. The club's programs consist of guest speakers as well as speakers from the club membership.

Continuous research and many hours of study in Physics lab are found by Paul Perry and Ralston Smith to be tremendously rewarding.

The Young Republicans Club hold their meeting.

A big event this fall was the mock election. For weeks the political parties on our campus had been holding rallies. Then came the big day, Election Day. The cry of "Go to the Grill and vote!" or "Have you voted yet?" could be heard. Before every national or state election the students held a mock election which is sponsored by the World Affairs Club. This is to get the students familiar with the voting process of our state and our national government.

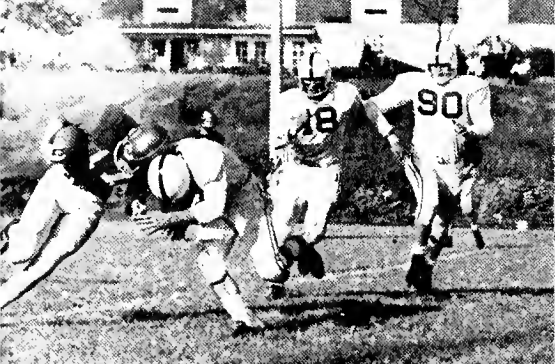

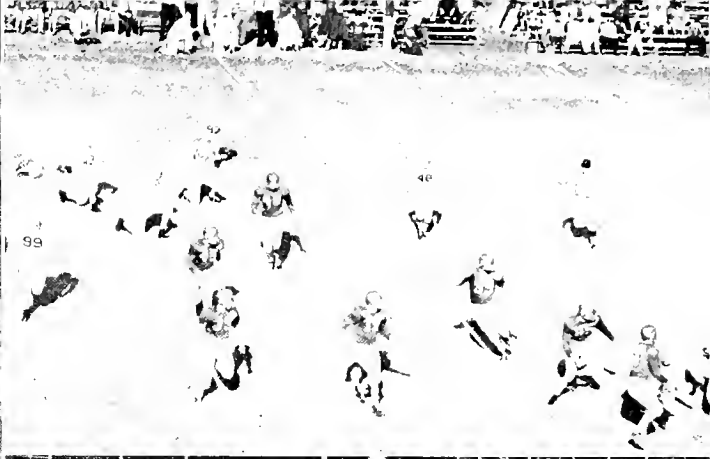

LET'S GO VOTE

Rushing to the grill to vote.

Billy Evans, Dewey Engle, Scott Masters, and Betty Warman cast their vote while officials Denver Wells, Beecher Harold and Gayle Harold look on.

FOOTBALL

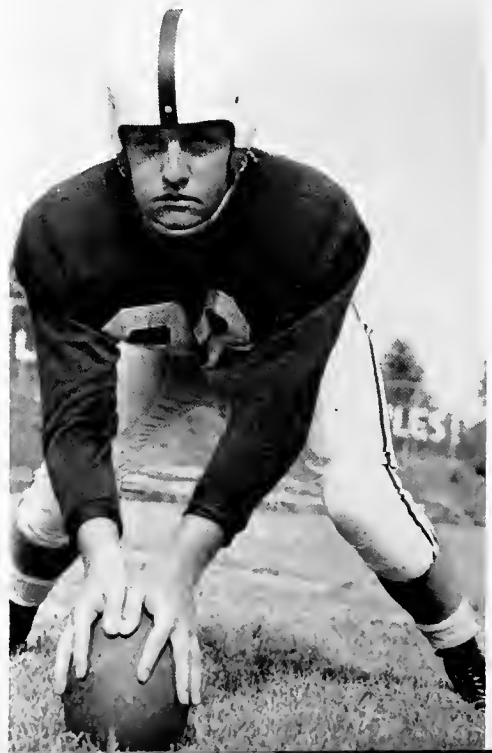

Glenn Presnell, former All-American and professional grid star, is in his third year as head football coach of the Eastern Kentucky Maroons. Two years ago, in his initial season as head coach of the Maroons, Presnell guided the Eastern Kentuckians to their most successful football season in history, their first Ohio Valley Conference Championship and a trip to the Tangerine Bowl. Fred Darling has been line coach at Eastern since 1947. He played three years of football here, where he was chosen on the Little American team. Assisting Presnell with the backfield was Horace Harper, who had to give up football after a chest injury last fall.

THE COACHES

The values and cultural aspects of football are essential in that they provide and enlarge opportunities and varied social situations which are conducive to developing initiative, leadership, self-control, courage, loyalty, fair-play, sportsmanship, courtesy, obedience to rules and officials, as well as providing fun and recreation. These pleasurable experiences can best be exemplified by the motto of the Olympic Games: "the essential thing is not winning, but having taken part; the important thing is having played well".

CAPTAIN

Jerry Boyd, senior center from Uniontown, Pa., a four letterman who gained mention as one of the Little All-American grid squads last fall, was voted captain of the 1956 Maroons. A great leader who was a starter on Eastern's 1954 Tangerine Bowl team, Jerry gained an outstanding reputation around the Ohio Valley Conference for his crisp blocking and vicious tackling.

VALUABLE PLAYERS

MOST VALUABLE LINEMAN

Sal Marchese, a name that will be heard many times during the next two seasons, was voted the most valuable lineman by his teammates. Sal is a great lover of the game and, already, he is a feared man by Eastern opponents. He should be a shoo-in for all-conference honors next year.

MOST VALUABLE BACK

Gary Jump, courageous sophomore halfback from Erlanger, Ky., began the season as the number three left half, but before the season was very old, he fought his way to a starting berth and was outstanding for the Maroons. The third leading ball carrier, Jump averaged seven yards a carry with the leather. He was tied for second place in scoring with 18 points. A lot can be expected from this scotback who loves the game. His teammates had enough confidence in him to name him the most valuable back.

THE SEASON

Although the 1956 Maroon gridgers were, statistically, a far better club than the 1955 team, they finished with a season record of four wins and five losses, all the setbacks coming by between one and eight points.

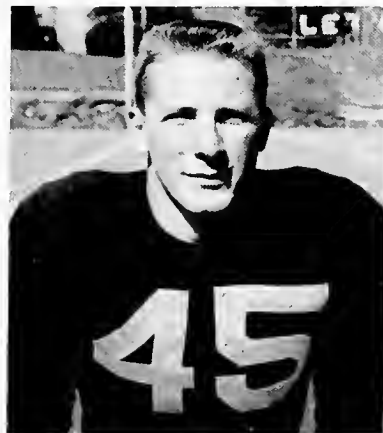

With twenty-plus lettermen back from the '55 team, Coach Glenn Presnell's many followers were making reservations for a New Year's trip to Orlando, Florida, and a return trip to the Tangerine Bowl. These followers, however, were not expecting the Maroons' opponents to have strong clubs, many of which had the strongest in their history.

September 15 saw the Maroons in Toledo, Ohio, where they nipped an inspired Toledo Rocket eleven 12 to 6. Jerry Wilhoit, sophomore flankman, who replaced the injured Tom Schulte, tallied on a 15 yard aerial from Ronnie Pally, and John Sebest snagged Pally's second touchdown pass from 12 yards out for the Maroons' scoring.

On September 29 the Murray Thoroughbreds invaded Hanger Stadium with one of their best ball clubs and eked by a scrapping Eastern by 14 to 7. Eastern's only touchdown came on a quarterback sneak by Jack Rodgers from one yard out.

SENIORS

Bobby Thompson, senior halfback from Charlotte, North Carolina, wound up his career, which this year was marred by injuries, by turning in several good performances for the Maroons. A fine broken field runner, Thompson had a world of football potential.

Paul Thomas, number 64, catches a pass for 10 yards.

Eastern then journeyed to Middle Tennessee on October 6 to suffer their second straight defeat at the hands of the Blue Raiders. The Raiders' effective running attack was aided by a sparkling passing attack which defeated the Maroons 26 to 19. Eastern's touchdowns came on a two-yard plunge by John Sebest, a fumble return of 68 yards by Dave Bishop and a six-yard run again by John Sebest.

Eastern's "hot and cold" Maroons again ran cold in losing a close 13-12 Dad's Night game to East Tennessee State at Hanger Stadium. Eastern's scoring came on a three-yard keep-it play and a quarterback sneak by Rannie Polly.

At Charleston, West Virginia, on October 27 Eastern finally got hot and beat Morris Harvey in a close one 13-6. The Maroons' touchdowns came on a five-yard run by Gary Jump and on a drive of 99 yards which took 23 plays, with "Red" Hortman going over from one yard out to give Eastern their second win of the season.

Eastern's Homecoming crowd was delighted a week later, on November 3, when the Maroons stopped the powerful Tennessee Tech Golden Eagles 25-13. Thomas, Wilhoit, Conley and Jump did the scoring for the big "E".

Don Hartman, the younger of the Hortman brothers, was a four-year letterman for the Maroons. Playing both the end and tackle positions, Hartman handled some of the extra point kicking duties and finished a fine grid career with the gridders of Glen Pressnell. Don hails from Doytan, Ohio.

Bab Tishue, two-year letterman from Uniantawn, Pa., performed capably at his tackle position for the Maroons. A hard worker, Bab graduated in May.

David Bishop makes a first down for Eastern with the help of fullback Bob Callahan in a hard-fought game.

The Eastern Maroons, very impressive in their last two outings, evened up their season record against the Morehead Eagles 19-0 in the annual battle for the "Old Hawg Rifle". The Maroons' touchdowns came on running plays by Jump, Bass, and Callahan with Paul Thomas converting.

Eastern closed its season against the Louisville Cardinals in a hard-fought contest, only to lose out 14-6. Eastern's only score came on a 30-yard pass play by quarterback Jack Rodgers.

Gary Jump, number 75, goes over for the touchdown.

The highlight of fall is that great day "Homecoming." This of course requires lots of preparation. Everyone is busily engaged in making floats for the parade. A big bon-fire and pep rally is held on the football field to start things rolling. The pep rally soon develops into a snake dance through town. Thus with the dance, seeing old friends, and decorating the campus, excitement and school spirit run high.

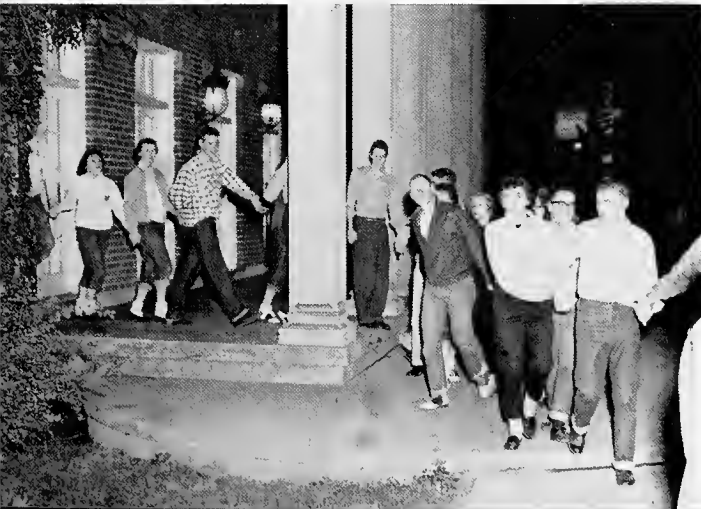

The cheerleaders pep things up as homecoming week gets under way.

GETTING READY FOR HOMECOMING

Jim Skaggs, Al Hatch, Charles Andrew, and James Donald Adams race against time to stuff the last napkin before the big parade.

Through the library, through the grill, through the dorms, the Snake Dance winds its way across campus.

The winning float portraying the anniversary of Eastern is the pride of the Vets Club.

THE BIG DAY IS HERE

With the dawn of a beautiful day we see many hurrying and scurrying to make last-minute preparations. The many floats, bands, R.O.T.C. corps and pretty girls make up the successful parade. The judges find it hard to pick a winning float. They are chosen for their originality and beauty.

W.R.A. worked like Trojans building their huge horse to liven up the parade.

The girls with the Junior Class float were all "fagged" out after their walk through town.

Hail, Hail to the Marching Maroons as they add their rousing music to the day's festivities.

Alumni feel right at home with a welcome extended them by the Student Council.

Students, alumni, and friends gather in the stadium for the main events of the afternoon. These include the game and the crowning of the queen. The band and majorettes provide us with entertainment at half time. All this plus Eastern's victory over the University of Louisville adds up to an unforgettably perfect day.

Majorettes lead the band in their lively half-time formations.

As the days grow shorter, and icy winds whistle around corners of the buildings, the tempo of campus activities increases in a seeming effort to conquer the dreary weather. The interval between the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays is filled with church and social affairs—the traditional programs at Eastern usher in the Christmas season—and we anticipate the time we will spend with our families. The New Year resumes the now - accustomed routine of classes, basketball games, and occasional welcome relaxation. The refreshing sight of snow enlivens the campus as nothing else can—and winter seems a favorite season in the brilliance of its frosty whiteness.

WINTER

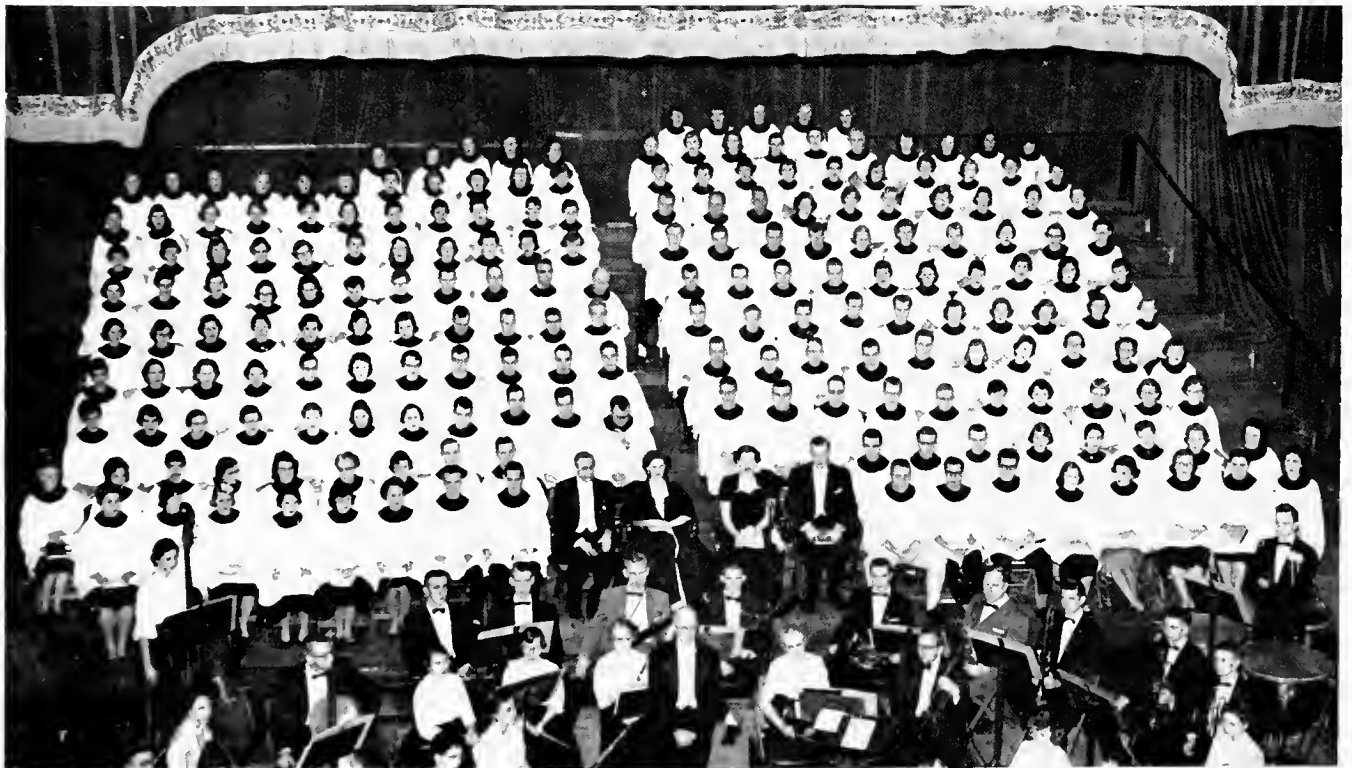

Christmas on Eastern's campus is always something to be remembered. It is a beautiful sight to see all the greens go up to decorate the lobby of the Student Union Building. The Hanging of the Greens is sponsored by the YM-YWCA. Another annual tradition is the Messiah presented by the music department. Both students and townspeople participate in the chorus.

Margaret Hall playing the trumpet, Harriet Harris and Nellie Mike carrying evergreen wreaths begin the procession of girls at the Hanging of the Greens.

YULETIDE SPIRIT

The 25th presentation of Handel's Messiah under the direction of Mr. Van Peursem was given in Brock Auditorium on December 9, 1956.

There are a great many activities during the Christmas Holidays to keep us very busy. Some of these are teas at the Home Management House and the annual Freshmen Women's Dinner given by the Cwens. There are also the parties for the girls given in the lobbies of Burnam and Sullivan.

CHRISTMAS GAIETY

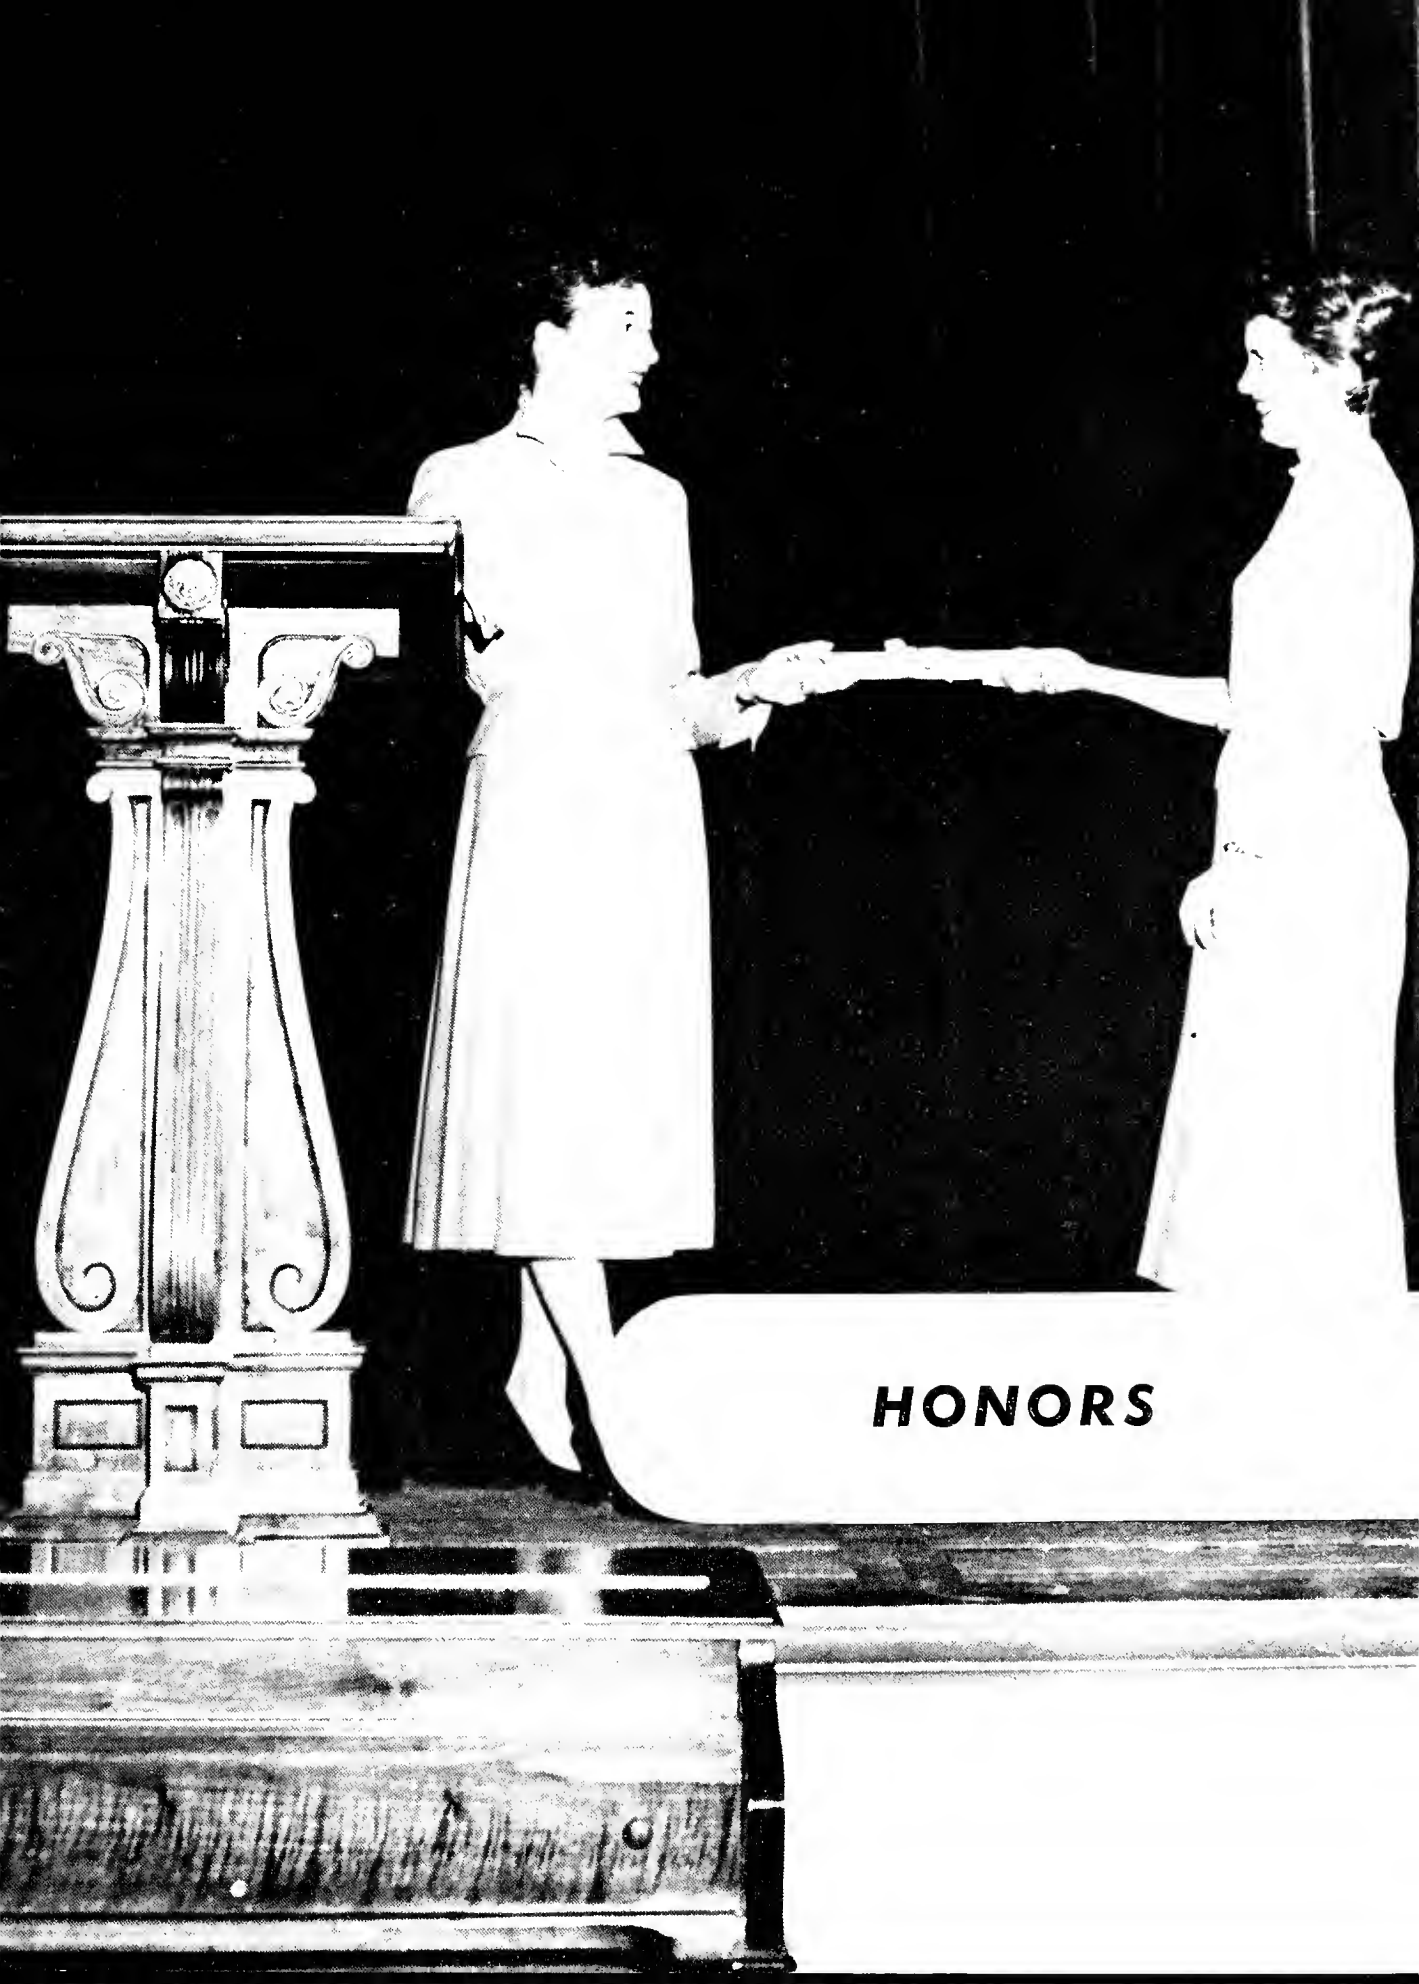

One of the prettiest decorated doors in Burnam Hall.

Dorm parties in small groups are most common among the girls in Burnam and Sullivan Halls. The girls gayly decorate their rooms with trees, greens, and lights. Singing the favorite and beautiful corols adds to the obounding Christmas spirit. A jayous and gloriaus spirit fills the campus os people prepare for the holi-days.

The girls gathered in the lobby of Burnam to sing Carols led by a gaup of Carolers.

BASKETBALL

PAUL S. McBRAYER
Head Coach

COACHES

Since 1946, when Paul McBrayer came to coach the Maroon basketball team, Eastern has made a steady climb from nowhere to national prominence in the realm of basketball. By 1949 McBrayer had built Eastern's team to the point where it entered the select group classified by the N.C.A.A. as "major" college basketball.

Coach McBrayer is nationally known as a master-strategist, a strict disciplinarian, a basketball fundamentalist with limitless knowledge of the game. Born in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, McBrayer entered the University at the age of 16 and still ranks with their all-time greats in basketball. He starred on the baseball diamond, too, and received some attractive offers from the major leagues, but turned them down to stick to his first love—basketball.

After graduation he coached at Kavanaugh High School in Lawrenceburg before returning to U. of K. to assist in basketball. He remained there for nine years, until called into the service. After two and a half years in the army, McBrayer came to Eastern in 1946.

Number 22, Jim Kiser, goes up for a rebound along with Larry Waad, Dale Moore and Ray Vencill.

THE SEASON

With an inexperienced, sophomore-studded squad in a rebuilding year, Coach Paul McBrayer's Maroons opened the season with the University of Louisville, the nation's Number 1-ranking team. With a starting five made up of Clayton Stivers, Carl Wright, Bill Florence, Jim Kiser and Larry Wood, a quintet that had proven very effective in spring practice and during the fall workouts, they did everything well except that all-important thing of getting their shots to fall. However, this game gave fans an indication of what was to be expected of the Maroons this season.

In the second game against the University of Alabama, the Maroons out-scored in field goals but were defeated at the foul line. Back home for their third game, the Maroons, led in scoring by Moore and Wood, defeated Evansville College. The Maroons took to the road again for the game with North Carolina State. This completed play until January 5, 1957, when the Maroons journeyed to Tennessee, winning from Tennessee Tech and Middle Tennessee, both close, hard-fought games.

Following in rapid succession, the Maroons met and were defeated by Western, their arch rival. On the road for the next three games, Eastern lost her return game with Louisville; Cincinnati topped the Maroons in a close game, and the following night the Dayton club defeated the Eastern quintet.

Back home again, Murray was defeated by the Maroons. The next game, Evansville, was lost by the Maroons on the free-throw line. On their home floor again, Eastern defeated the Quantico Marines in an overtime game.

Hosts to Western in their next game, the Maroons held a brilliant half-time lead, but lost again on free throws. Toledo, in the next game, offered little competition to the Maroons, the play being dominated by Moore and Wood. In their next game, with Tennessee Tech, the Maroons again walked away with the score.

Eastern returned home on February 18 to play Middle Tennessee. Leading at the end of the first half, the Maroons lost by only five points as the Raiders shot 63 times from the free-throw line. In Winston-Salem, Wake Forest defeated the Maroons in a shooting spree that took its toll.

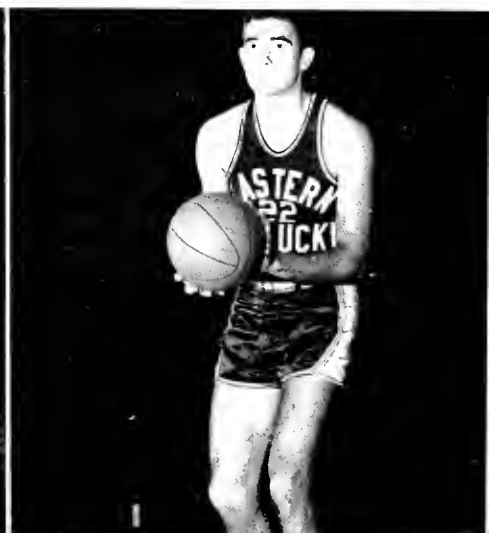

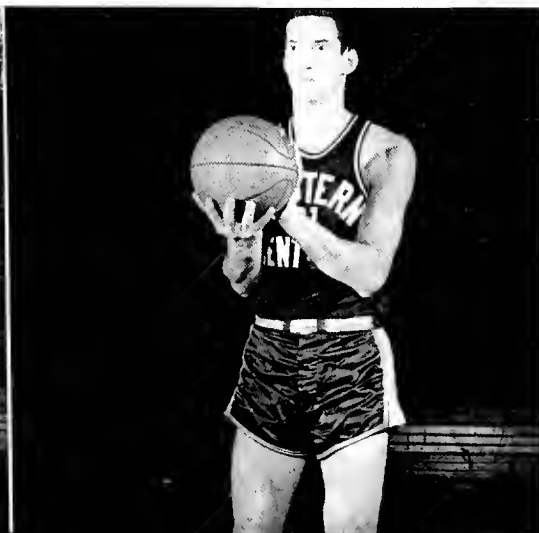

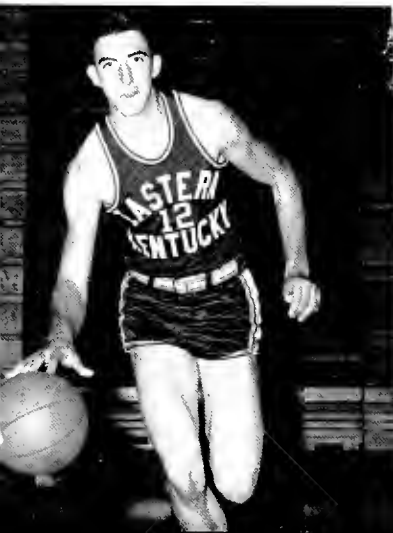

Back at Richmond, the Maroons lost to Morehead in a last-half set-back. Traveling to Morehead for the next game, the Maroons again faced disaster from the foul line. The next game, with Miami University of Ohio, played in Louisville, was one of the hardest-fought games of the season, the Maroons losing by one point in an overtime. In their final game at Murray, the strenuous season had apparently taken its toll. The Eastern five lost, but were outscored by only one field goal.

In the final analysis, this squad of ten sophomores and two juniors showed great heart in weathering its discouragements, and the personnel seemed optimistic and filled with bright hopes for the future.

SWEETHEART DANCE

Sorah Norris crowns Melvin Smithers King of the Sweetheart Dance as Barbara Jo Giunchigliana looks on.

The Sweetheart Dance, a vice versa affair held in Burnam's lobby, was sponsored by Collegiate Pentacle. Reigning as king of the dance was Melvin Smithers chosen by the Collegiate Pentacle members.

Following the coronation King Melvin dances with Sorah.

Many couples enjoyed the sweetheart dance. Shown in the foreground are Jahn Payne and Joanne Kidd.

The dance, a gala affair, was attended by many couples. Music was furnished by the college band, The Headliners, and the Quintet, known as the Pastels, sang. The dance, quite a successful one, was enjoyed by all.

Jack Farman, Yvonne McNabb, Jae Moores, Pat Allison, and Phil Landgrave make up Eastern's famous Pastels.

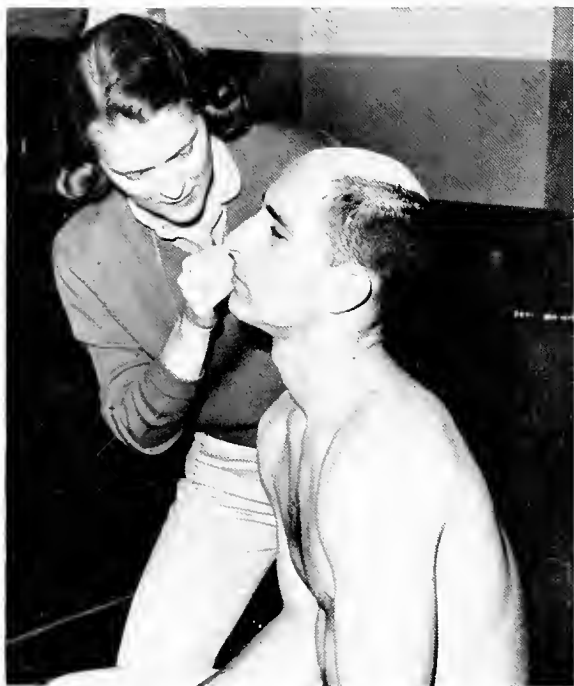

The Headliners, who made a favorable name for themselves during the year, furnished music for many of the dances.

Betty June Reed ushers Joy Kitsan and Betty Brack Lawrence to their seats at one of the community concerts.

CULTURE AND ENTERTAINMENT

Joyce Judy makes up Jack Radgers for his role in "Golden Boy."

Eastern is most fortunate in having on campus each year some famed musical artists who present programs of various types in the community concert series. Students also derive a great deal of pleasure from the plays given by the Little Theatre Club.

Charles Adams, Jack Clark, Daug Robinson, Margaret Butler, and Ted Freeman all appear in a scene from "Golden Boy".

VOCATIONAL INFORMATION CONFERENCE

Dolores Samson, Tony Parrent, Mrs. Cose, Pat Franklin, and Joy Kitson are the chief executives planning the Vocational Conference.

Helping to plan the conference are Pat Vencill, Ed Monheimer, Margie Elvove, Al Hatch, Peggy Hinkle, and Scotty Brown.

The Vocational Information Conference held biennially on campus is a student-sponsored conference which presents to the students the opportunities and advantages in their chosen vocations. It also helps seniors secure better positions after graduation. This information is conveyed to us by speakers prominent in their respective fields.

Working on the program committee are Gus Franklin, Tony Porrent, Grace Ann Donner, Jim Rolf, Fonn Herndon and Ben Flora.

BASKETBALL QUEEN

SHIRLEY DILLOW

SCHOOL SPIRIT

The Basketball Queen's court consisted of Bob Callahan, Marga Eades, Stevey Bindel—crown bearer—Robert Harville, Queen Shirley, Billy Rucker, Carol Louden, Jahn Sebest and Daris Everman.

Shirley Dillow, our basketball queen this year, is a junior from Vanceburg. She was selected by the student body by penny vote, and crowned at the half-time of the Morehead game by Robert Harville, president of the "E" Club.

The Band entertains the crowd during half time of the ball games and helps to maintain the school spirit.

Debbie Bell and Stan Bradberry, members of KYMA, sell cokes to Bill Zimmerman, Angus Begley and others at half-time.

An enthusiastic crowd at a ball game.

The first robin perched on a bare tree limb—brave green grass-blades peeping from the brown earth—the sudden changes from showers to sunshine give us a hint of approaching spring. Shadows are shorter in the afternoon—the sunsets paint the sky in beautiful colors—the first couples are seen strolling in the ravine. The tennis courts are full—the patio doors swing open—sun-lovers become colorfully evident, and new life seems to have revived us as well as the campus. The pace quickens as the school year grows near its end—the Military Ball and the Senior Prom are highlights of the social calendar—traditional Easter services are beautiful and inspiring—Honors Days, banquets, and initiations culminate achievements made during the year. Eastern becomes more and more dear to us as we come closer to leaving. We can wish no more than that those who follow may know and love her in her various seasons—changing, yet never changing—always Eastern—our Eastern.

SPRING

LIFE IN THE DORMS

Arnald Wells and Susie Phelps discuss plans for the evening with Bab Denney and Nancy Marcum.

Ronnie Silvers finds it hard to study while Bill Shadoan, Jack Kennedy, and Bob Lawrence stand by talking.

College wouldn't be the same without its dorm life. Living with others is not only a lot of fun but you also learn to give and take in order to get along well. We study, talk, play cards, and have a very merry time. It's truly our home away from home.

Marguerite McDaniel, Barbara Faulkner, Mary Ja Treadway, Cindy Day, Grace Pack, and Norma Sledge enjoy a game of Canasta.

Joe Heink sometimes finds it hard to study while his wife, Mary, takes care of little Philip.

IN THE VILLAGE

Sandy and Bobby Harville drop in on good friends Joyce and Catton Robinson for an evening of card-playing and chatter.

Bobby and Janet Thampson cram for those mid-semester tests.

Many of Eastern's married students live in the campus housing provision, Vet's Village. Quarters here are usually crowded but no one seems to mind because everyone shares the same problems and these seem to knit the project into a friendly, sharing, atmosphere. The "village" includes not only the little white rows of houses but also the trailer park and the barracks.

AIN'T LOVE GRAND?

This is the season when the Golden Rule is practiced most, Love One Another. Many couples are seen walking around hand in hand. The sun shines brighter, the trees begin to bud, the flowers pop up, and the birds begin to chirp — all this makes a perfect setting for the thing called love.

Freda Smith and Charlie Brown always find a few spare minutes to talk over those wedding plans.

Margie Elvove, Larue Wright, Jaan Kitson, and Larry Vackery enjoy the ten-minute break between classes.

Naan haur finds J. D. and Arlene Brock on the parch of Burnam.

Cliff Parson and Beverly Phillips are still cheerful even after a lang day of closses.

BASEBALL

Eastern's baseballers, which posted a 7-6-1 record, are again expected to field a fine team. They will, however, be without the services of senior lettermen Al Pipes, Don Boyer, Ken Stephens, Bob Brown, Ronnie Pellegrinan, Jim Tucker, and Bob Manning. The "Maroons" will play such outstanding teams as the University of Kentucky, Indiana, Cincinnati and Xavier, along with the other strong O.V.C. teams which they meet each season. Our hats are off to a fine coach and a fine team. We are proud of you!

Ja Margaret smashes one over the net for a point during the volleyball game in W.R.A.

Hockey

A young, inexperienced hockey team showed promising results for the season with one win and one defeat. The victory came at the expense of Morehead as the Maroonettes chalked up a 2-0 win. The loss was to Berea, 2-1 in a close one.

Aside from friendly competition with neighboring colleges, members of W.R.A. also attend clinics, sports days, and co-educational playdays which are held throughout the year.

BASKETBALL

During the basketball season, the W.R.A. gals came out on the short end with only one victory against four defeats. The lone win was over Morehead, 38-29. Losses were to the University of Louisville, 37-32; Berea, 55-30; Ursuline, 36-21; and the University of Kentucky, 35-26.

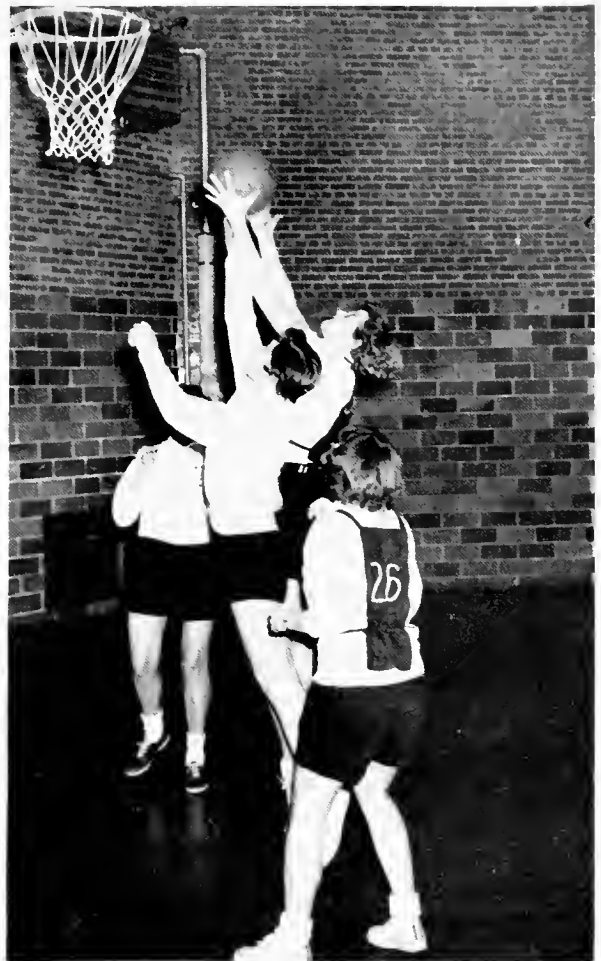

Leading scorers for the season were as follows:

Joan Mitchell	43
Pat Allison	82
Joy May	30
Pat Cleavenger	17

A very fine freshman team had a winning season registering wins over Ursuline, 17-16; University of Kentucky, 39-35; and Morehead, 41-14. Two defeats were dealt to the yearlings by the University of Louisville, 28-14; and Berea, 51-22.

Individual scoring ran as follows:

Judy Leete	62
Barb Bradshaw	57
Dorcas Ward	19
Toni Zarnos	14
Peggy Oswald	11

A mad scramble for the ball as Barb, Joy, Lib and Pat all go after it.

Johnny Coy, Jerry Abner, and Helen Shaw along with other classmates are kept busy with English.

AND SO TO CLASS AGAIN

Readin', writin' 'rithmetic are still being taught in our classes on campus, plus many other things which go to make up a well-rounded student. Now's the time for work. In class we get to know our fellow students and the professors as well as learning subject material.

Barbara Godby and Vickie Howard cook a delicious meal for their Home Economics class.

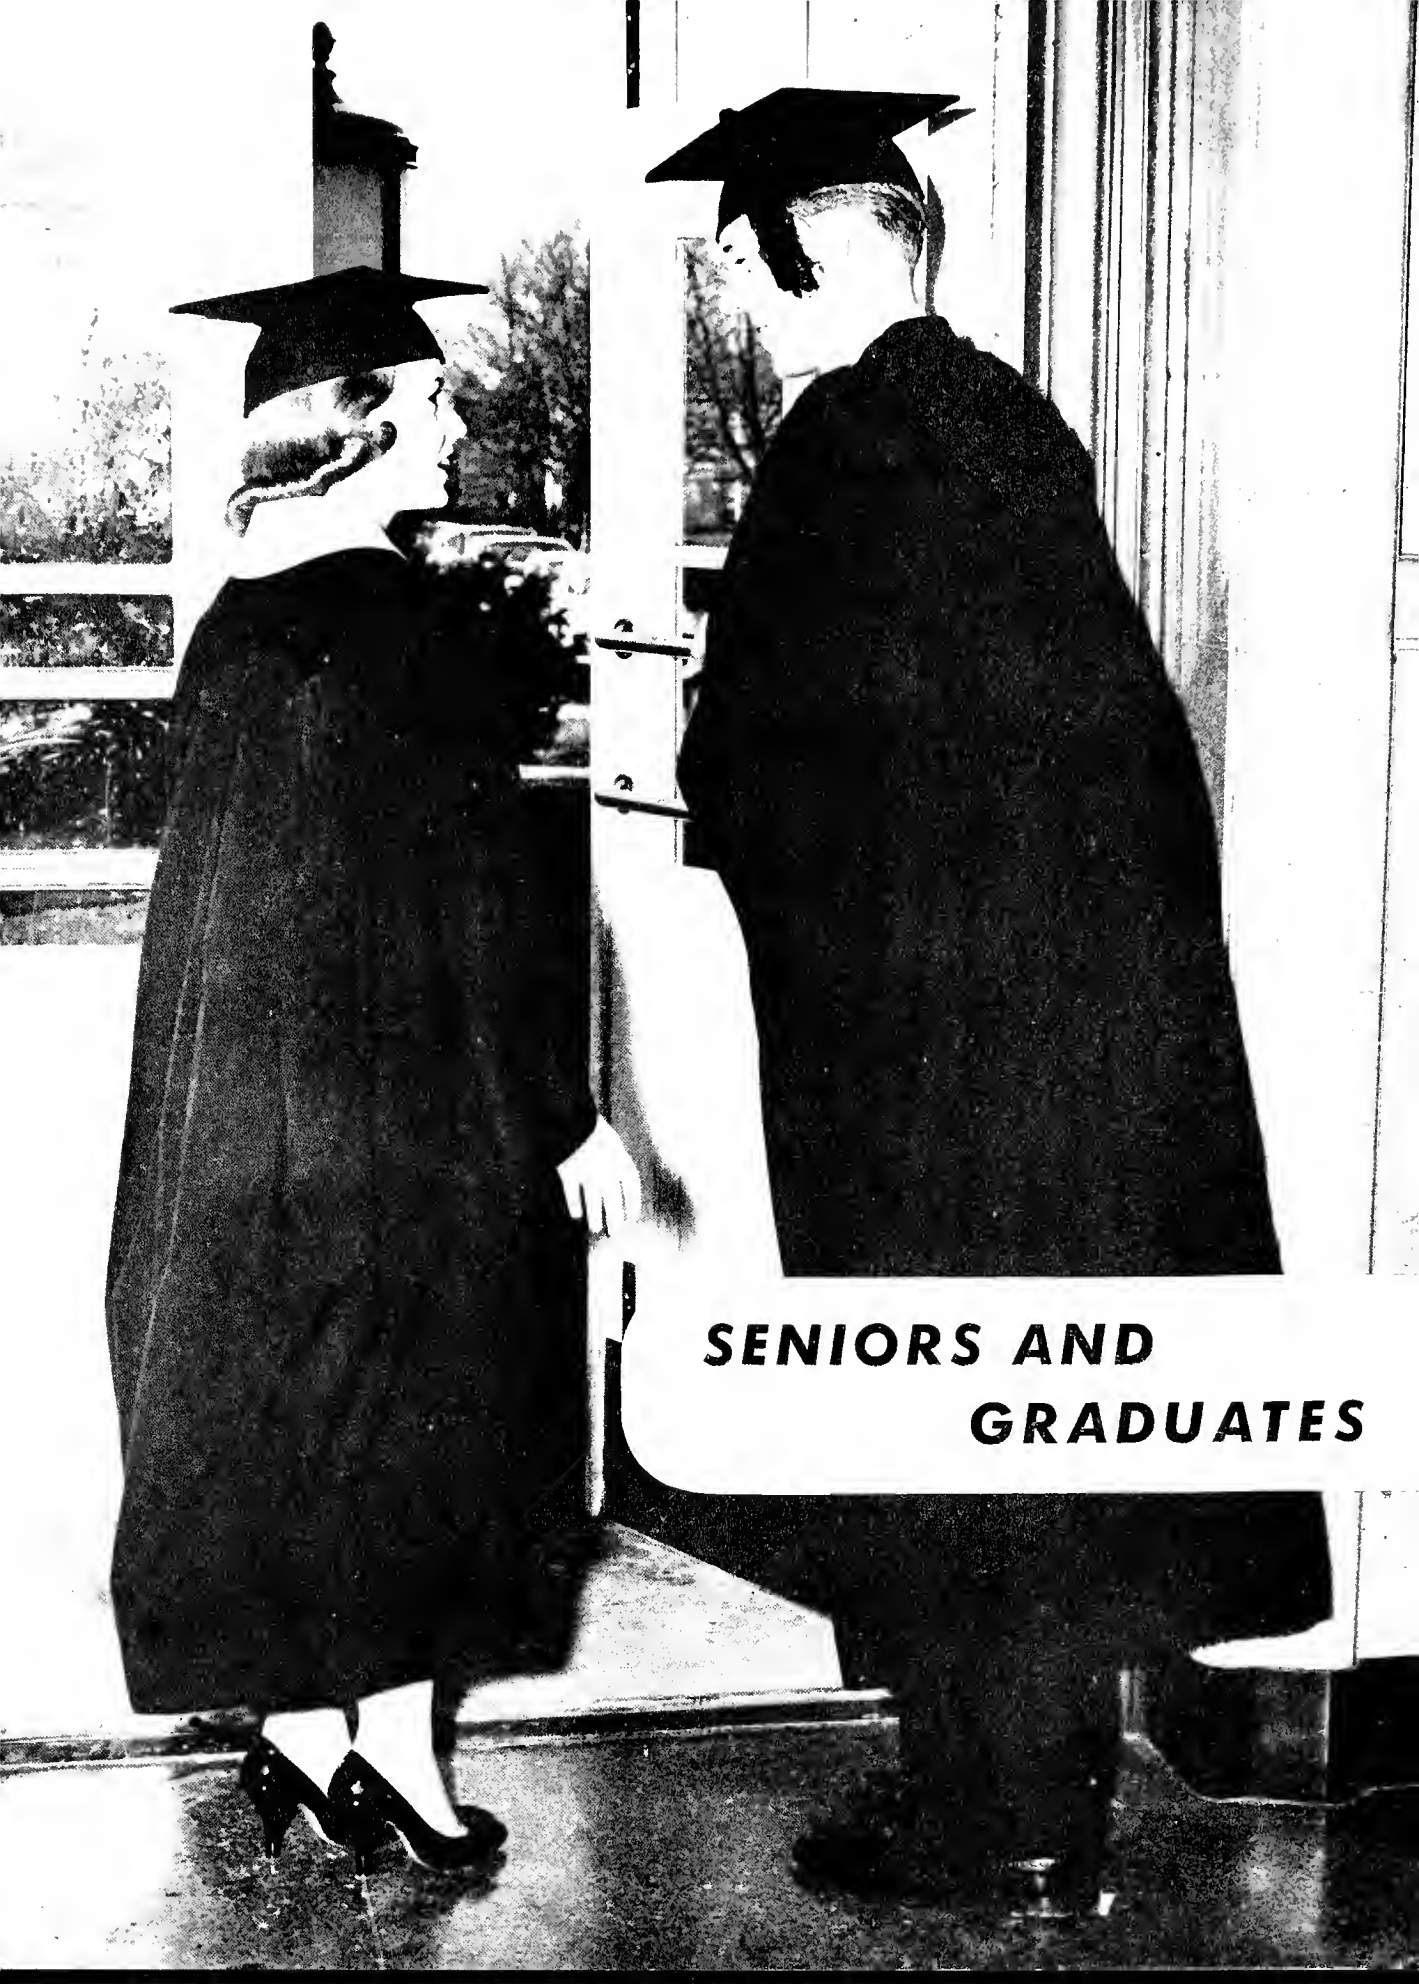

Pam Blair, Dan Stahl, and Steve Herczeg find Geography an interesting course.

HONORS DAY

Going to class and studying has its advantages and as Honors Day arrives and we look back over our year of toil and labor we realize it was worth it. Every spring the Women's and Men's Honors Day is held. This is the day to honor the students who have a high scholastic standing, the club officers, and the outstanding students of each class.

SENIORS AND GRADUATES

As seniors we are the finished product of Eastern's academic ability. We can look back wistfully now, at research papers, science experiments, art projects, accounting problems and all of those things with which Eastern has prepared us. We also realize our personal benefit from the experiences we have had working together on floats, movies, dances, and other of the various class projects. The class of 1957 will remember Eastern and each other by the many friendships, heartaches and joys which we have shared here.

Campus scenes take on new beauty in the newness of spring — familiar views catch and hold our attention, and imprint themselves on our minds — this is Eastern. We find ourselves more busy each day, with only a short time between now and graduation — yet somehow, there's always time to stop and talk — to sit in the sun — to just enjoy the moment for itself. This, too, is Eastern.

Ruth Anderson, Reid Brock, and Lenore Cahoon wait patiently as Mrs. Kenamer waits on Charles Brown.

The most popular major, and the one with the largest enrollment, is grillology. There are many courses offered in this major. Some of these are ping pong, pool, and the favorite—cards. Here you can also get that day-old paper from home and hear the very latest gossip while having a cup of coffee or a bite of lunch.

GRILLOLOGY

It never fails! Shirley Tirey and Don Hortman struggle to get their mail.

Shirley Singleton and Dick Perry are enjoying a game of ping pong.

George Routh, Nelson Bell, Susan Clark, Cloude Stone, Joe Cloud and Jock Horner chat and grab a bite to eat in the grill at lunch time.

Grillology is the favorite on campus; just ask Phil Orley, Lindo Parris, Ted Freemon, or Barbara Webster.

David Dorby and Hensley Sporks watch as Harold Hatter, Poul Ferguson, Bill Frederick, Bob Kinningham and Roy Goff have a game of cards.

MILITARY BALL QUEEN

BILLIE SUE ROBERTS

Queen Santa Barbara and her court.

The Military Ball is a great event of the year not only for the R.O.T.C. but also to many other students. The lovely queen, who is selected by the Senior R.O.T.C. Corps and her court, the formal receiving line and the crowded dance floor help to make the evening a great success and one to be remembered always.

MILITARY BALL

President and Mrs. O'Dannell, Colonel and Mrs. Hickman and Bill Carrier greet the students as they come through the receiving line.

SPRING

HERE . . .

Spring! The most wonderful time of the year. A time for the club picnics, banquets and retreats. For it is at this time that God once again brings about the rebirth of nature. Often times during the winter we may lose sight of God's wonderful surroundings; however, at Eastern it is truly impossible to forget His work. As the trees begin their showing of the green, what could be more fitting than the Easter Sunrise service? At this time we can see God all around us.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM
KING AND QUEEN

FRANCES MILAM - RONNIE SHERRARD

1956

AT LAST . . .

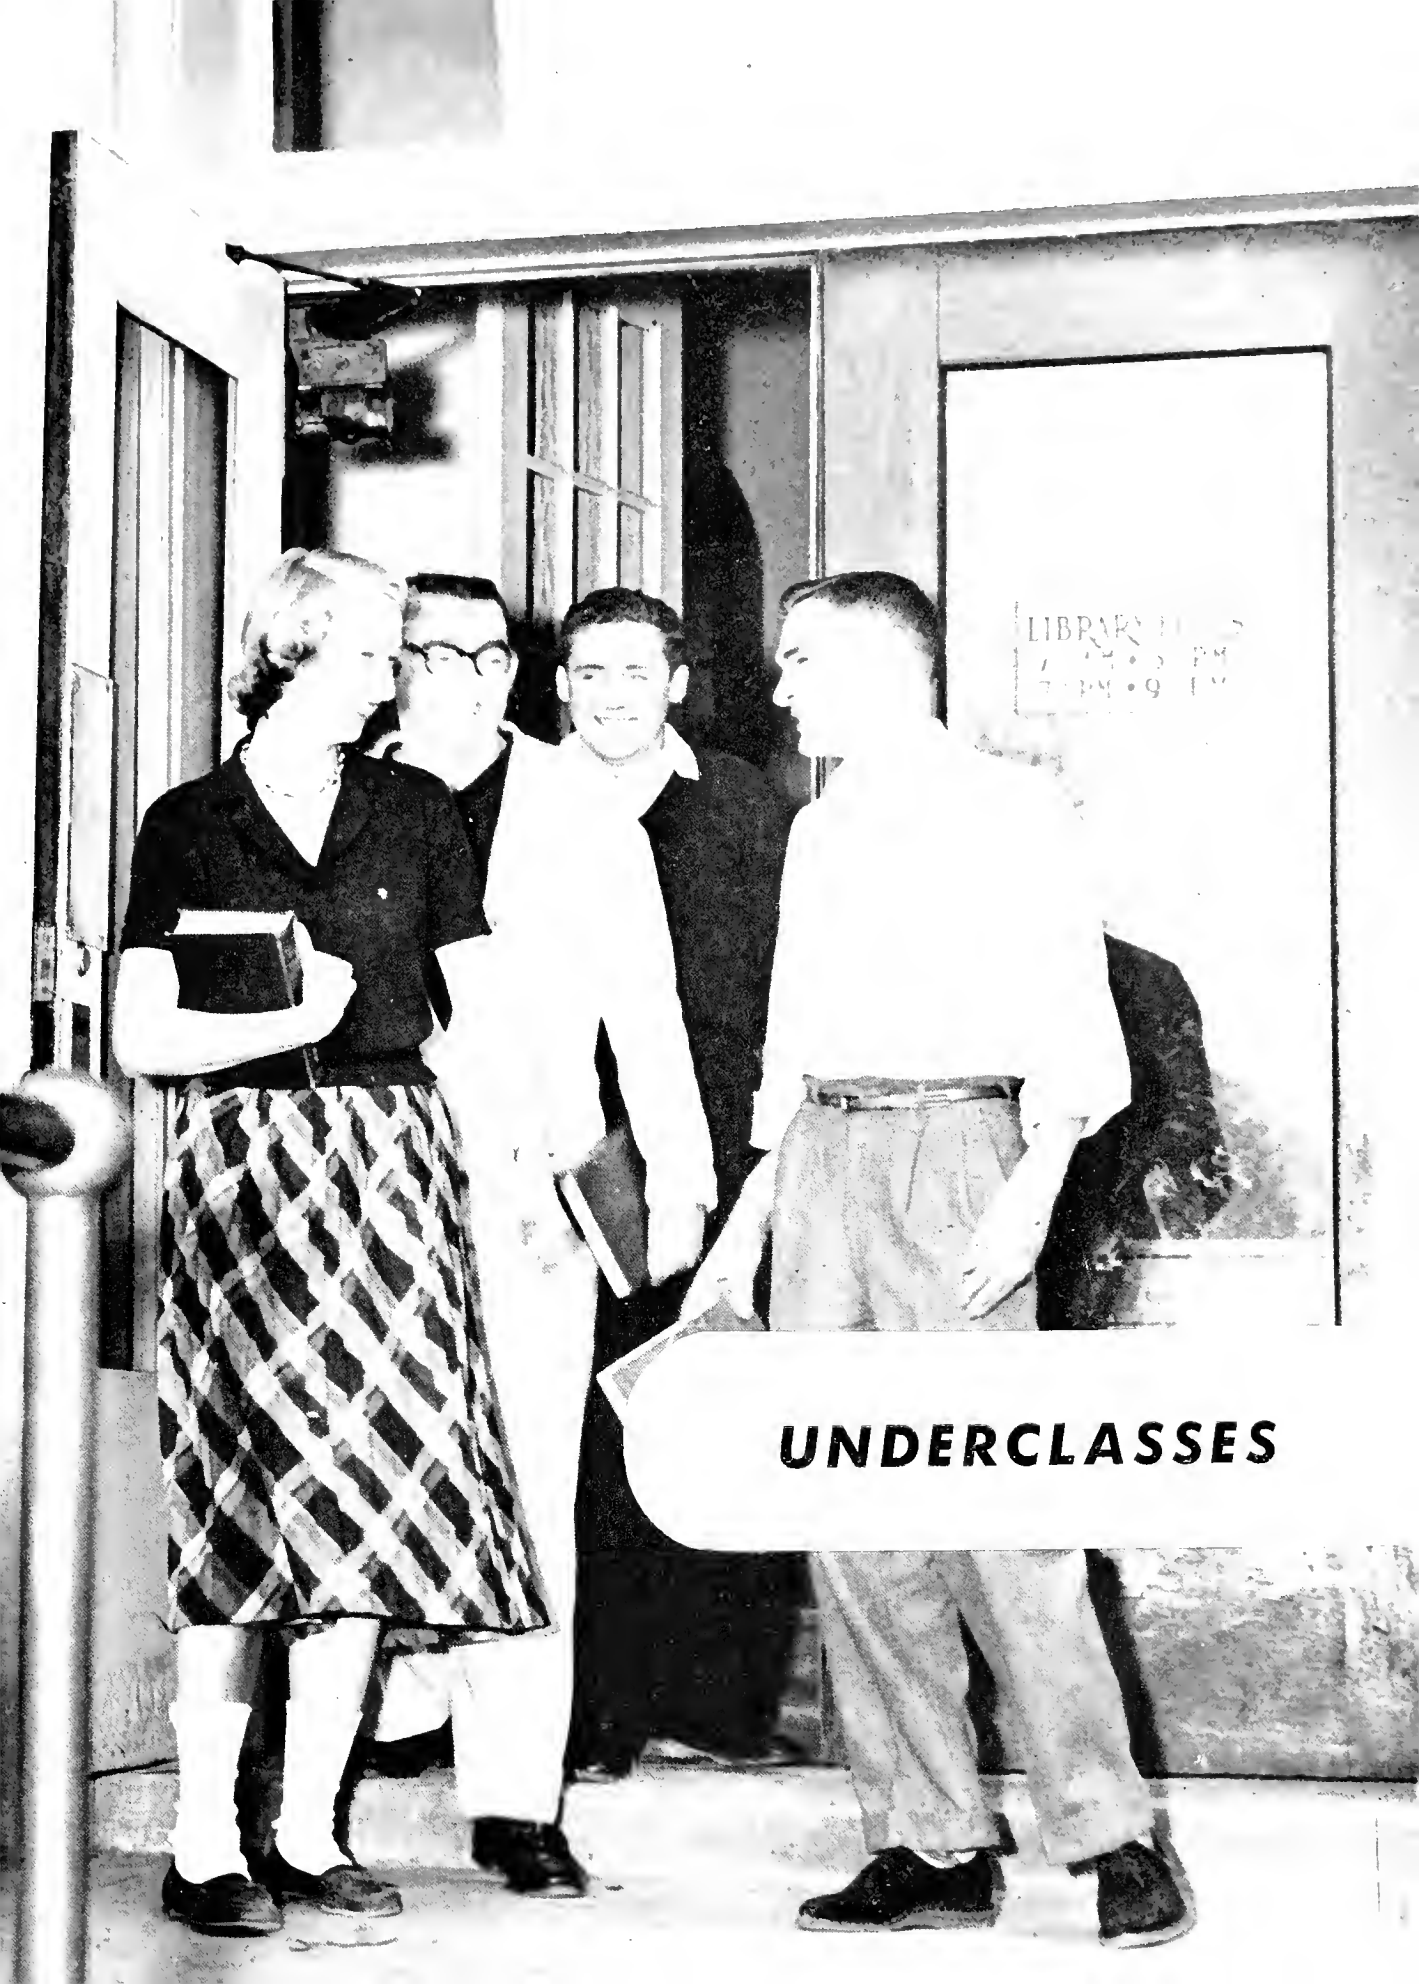

Wanda and Phil Smith are getting ready for that "big moment"—graduation.

After four long years of hard work, the time has finally come—the day we have looked forward to for so long—graduation. To many it doesn't seem as happy as they thought it would. The thoughts of leaving many friends and going into the world on our own somehow seems frightening.

All these thoughts are running through our minds, but as we line up to receive that long-awaited degree, we look back over four wonderful years and walk forward eagerly into the future.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Jolly juniors! We've spent a busy year, filled with many class projects — including a float for Homecoming, dances, and many fund-raising activities in preparation for the Junior-Senior Prom. Our officers have ably served the class for their second year, and our sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richards, are always on hand to pep us up and share in all our activities.

With only one more year at Eastern, we're looking forward to all the activities we will have together as a class. The past three years have provided many shared experiences — we'll never forget our class or the many things we've done. Here's looking forward to next year!

Mascot of the Music Department, beloved by everyone who has had the pleasure of making his acquaintance — Mozart, or better still, "Mo", is entertainer-in-chief at most of the Band performances, an unquestioned escort for any group of girls walking downtown, and a dependable noise-producer in case things get too dull around campus. Whether curled up on the porch of Burnam in the winter, or trotting around from "class to class" in the spring—Mo is always a welcome and friendly sight.

Mrs. Yaunce, secretary in the office of the Music Department, is actually much more than her title implies. She's always there to answer the questions of the students about practice times, schedules, concerts, and recitals—and she usually has the answer to that very common question, "Where's Mr. Van?" She manages to keep order in the much-too-small office housing the administration of the Music Department—and surely she's looking forward to her future surroundings in the new Music Building.

One of the new and fascinating experiences awaiting a new student at Eastern, or at least one who has an interest in science, is the many long hours spent in labs. Sound dull and dreary? Ask anyone who has done it—they'll tell you differently! Whether working on a simple experiment, or making a difficult extraction, laboratory classes give students a chance to get acquainted with the very basis of life—the care of all that exists.

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

vice-president.

As freshmen last year, ours was the largest class to have entered Eastern up to that time. Our first year away at college was a big one, including many sack hops and the "White Rose Farmal" which we sponsored. It was the first dance to be held in Sullivan and one that will never be forgotten by those who attended.

Being saphomores, we have enjoyed several activities this year. Twa receptions have been given the class by advisors Mrs. Case and Mr. and Mrs. William Stocker. In February our class spanored a sock hop which proved very successful. A barn dance was held in the spring for all Eastern students. Yes, we have had fun these first two years, and we look forward eagerly ta our junior year.

SEATED, left to right: Eddie Pongburn, Foster; Don Cole, Newport.

From class to class—from one side of the campus to the other, in a rush—our days are busily filled. In the easy, informal atmosphere of the classroom, we freshmen become better acquainted with some of the members of our large class—and what fun it is learning to type, make a dress, or fix a meal! It all adds up to one thing — college is wonderful, even though it does include classes.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

After a wonderful welcoming to Eastern by the upper classmen during Freshman Week, the freshman class, sponsored by Dr. Smith Park, began to organize. They elected the following for class officers: Eddie Hatch, President; Marvin Cottrell, Vice-President; Deanie Dyre, Secretary; and Frank Pierce, Treasurer. Several committees were chosen to be responsible for various class activities throughout the year.

The first project of the freshman class was a float for Homecoming. Several parties and receptions have been given for the freshmen, and this has enabled our class to get to know one another better. We feel that we've gotten off to a good start, and look forward to our next three years at Eastern eagerly.

*Heaven's light forever shines, Earth's shadows fly;
The splendors of the firmament of time
May be eclipsed, but are extinguished not;
Like stars to their appointed height they climb.
And death is a low mist which cannot blot
The brightness it may veil.*

—Percy Bysshe Shelley
